AMERICANS SPARED.

At the Massacre at Sivas They were Protected.

THE DISORDERS CONTINUE.

Charges Made Against the Armenians—The Sultan Will Give Food and Shelter to the Homeless—Warships to Turkey.

Constantinople, Nov. 14.—The representative of the United Press in this city learns that on Nov. 12, Mr. M. A. Jewett, United States consul at Sivas, telegraphed the United States minister, Terrill, informing him that massacres of Christians by Moslems had begun at that place. As soon as he received the dispatch Mr. Terrill hastened to the foreign office, where he personally saw Tewfik Pasha, minister of foreign affairs, and demanded that adequate protection be afforded to the United States consulate at Sivas, at the same time warning in the name of the United States that Turkey would be held responsible if even the hair upon the head of an American should be touched.

On Nov. 13, Consul Jewett advised Mr. Terrill that there had been a terrible massacre of Christians at Sivas, but that foreigners had been afforded full protection by the authorities and order had been partially restored.

While the massacre at Marash was in porgress the foreign missionaries were guarded by troops in pursuance of orders received from the Porte. The Porte has written notes to the protesting powers in reply to the notes of the latter demanding to know what steps are being taken to restore order in the disturbed districts of Armenia, stating that 80,000 reserves have been ordered to proceed to Armenia at once.

Official dispatches received here to-day show no diminution in the reign of anarchy in certain parts of the Empire.

A telegram from the authorities at Arabkir, Asiatic Turkey, state that 3500 Armenians rose against the Turks and committed many excesses on Oct. 26 and 27. The Armenians set fire to a Mosque, the school and the bazaar, using bombs containing some inflammable material to make their work more certain. The flames spread with startling rapidity and several stores and houses occupied by Musselmans and Christians were destroyed. The insurgents also attacked the Mussulman quarter of Ouloupinar and killed many of the residents. The Mussulman population of Arabkir have telegraphed to the Porte imploring protection. The authorities there succeeded, however, in restoring order. Forty bombs were discovered with which the Armenians designed to destroy the barracks and government offices. Five thousand Armenian revolters have assembled at Tchoukmerzen, Adana and are preparing for aggressive action.

The official dispatches charge the Armenians with various acts of murder and pillage at Erzinghian, Sivas and Mandjilik.

TURKISH CHARITY.

Food and Lodgings to be Furnished to Victims of the Riots.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The Turkish legation has received from the Sublime Porte the following telegram under yesterday's date.

"His imperial majesty, the Sultan, in his high sentiments of generosity has issued orders to the effect that all of his Musselman and Christian subjects who sustained any damage during the recent riots in certain provinces of the Empire should be nourished and sheltered at the expense of the State. The valis of the provinces have been informed of the above.

"The authorities of Mamouret-Ul-Aziz telegraph that a conflict took place at Kesruk between Mussulmans and Armenians in consequence of the latter firing a few shots from revolvers. Two Mussulmans and two Armenians were slightly wounded. Bagdjioglon Kircor, instigator of the conflict, was arrested and order was restored. At Malatia also order prevails.

"The Armenian rioters of Arabkir set fire to a mosque, to a Medressee and to the bazaar. The fire assumed large proportions and many houses of Mussulmans and Christians were burned. The Mussulmans part of the city was attacked and many Mussulmans were killed. The authorities are searching for the agitators and incendiaries."

More Italian Warships.

Rome, Nov. 14.—The government has decided to increase the Italian fleet that has been ordered to proceed to the Levant to act in conjunction with the British squadron in any contingency that may arise. As stated exclusively by the United Press yesterday, the turret ram barbette ships Re Umberto and Andrea Doria and the cruisers Stromboli and Etruria were ordered to proceed to the Levant with all possible dispatch and orders were issued for the torpedo cruiser Parthenope and the dispatch boat Galileo to proceed with the squadron.

Trouble Expected in Syria.

Rome, Nov. 14.—Advices have reached here from Beyrout showing that the situation in Syria and Lebanon is causing much anxiety and conflicts are feared at any moment. The inhabitants of Damascus are in a state of panic. The Mussulman populace is equally incensed against the government and the Christians. The local officials are powerless, owing to the contradictory orders that they have received.

Guilty, but Acquitted.

South Sioux City, Neb., Nov. 14.—Molly Maloy, a 15-year-old girl, was arrested here for horse stealing. It was learned at the trial that she had been taken ill, and wishing to go to her mother, who was one hundred miles away, she took a horse from a stable and rode it the entire distance, being almost dead when she arrived there. She was discharged.

Howgate's Sentence.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The district court of appeals to-day in an opinion delivered by Mr. Justice Morris, sustained the verdict of the criminal court in the case of Captain H. W. Howgate, the former disbursing officer of the signal service. The criminal court fixed his term of imprisonment at eight years. Capt. Howgate's counsel says that the last act has been performed so far as the courts are concerned and nothing can intervene but executive clemency to prevent Howgate serving his time in the Albany penitentiary. The prisoner was removed to the district jail, where he will remain for a few days to permit him to close up his business affairs prior to his removal to Albany to serve his sentence. He was accompanied to the jail by a young woman who had just been convicted of bigamy.

KILLED BY INDIANS.

The Murder of the Two Utes Traced to Their Own Tribe.

Denver, Nov. 14.—The Department of the Colorado has received two messages to-day from Agent Day, at the Ute Agency headquarters. He attributes the murders of the two Ute Indians to members of the tribe. The bodies were found on Chicken Creek, seven miles from the town of Mancos. He has sent Indian police down Mancos canon to look for the horses of the murdered Indians. Runners have been sent for the son of the Indians supposed to be guilty of the crime. He has wired for four Winchesters with which he thinks he will be able to master the situation. The cavalry at Fort Logan are awaiting orders, and will be ready to march at any moment. However, no difficulty is anticipated here and the murderers will eventually be caught.

"FOREIGN DEVILS."

A Sample of the Anti-Christian Posters Circulated in China.

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—(Correspondence of the United Press per steamer Coptic.)

Tokio, Japan, Oct. 27.—Advices from the vicinity of Ningpo state that anonymous placards were recently posted in various places, inviting the people to kill foreigners and native Christians and to destroy the chapels. Here is a translation of one of the placards:

This placard is to inform and invite the upper and lower Lintseng (literary men) to proceed to Macheo to attempt with one heart and strength to destroy the Jesus religion wholly. Now in Szechunen and Foo Chow and every place in obedience to the Imperial will, they have just killed and driven out the devils and those who eat the foreign teaching, but we the natives of the holy and virtuous region see everywhere over our hills, chapels established by the foreign devils to propagate the foreign doctrine. Our sacred nation is fighting against the Japanese and many of the enemy were captured by Liu's armies and there were foreign devils found amongst them. Why not come all together here and make use of this wonderful opportunity to destroy these robbers?

The first effect of these incendiary documents was that two native Christians were beaten and others threatened with worse things. Happily before the mischief had time to grow, the proclamations were brought by a foreigner to the notice of the prefect who promptly issued a proclamation warning evil-doers and ordering the authorities to be on the alert.

Persistent attempts are still made in the East to secure for France the credit of having compelled the Chinese government to permanently degrade and disqualify the ex-viceroy of Szechunen. It is claimed that when M. Gerard, the French representative in Pekin, obtained from the Tsung-Li Yamen satisfactory arrangements for the pecuniary indemnification of his nation's losses in Cheng Tu, he also elicited a promise that due punishment should be meted out to any officials found guilty of having promoted the outrages by connivance or negligence. It is singular that any one conversant with the ways of Chinese officialdom should believe in the faithful discharge of so vague an engagement.

The undoubtedly established fact is that the British minister, Sir N. O'Connor, presented to the Tsung-Li Yamen an ultimatum declaring that unless the ex-viceroy were publicly degraded within three days, the affair would be placed in the hands of the British admiral, whose instructions were to occupy the Yang-Tze valley. Sir Nicholas, at the same time exacted a pledge that all the other officials guilty of want of vigilance should be punished. An edict degrading the ex-viceroy was immediately issued.

Dunraven's Charges Discussed.

New York, Nov. 14.—An informal conference of yachtsmen was held at the New York Yacht club house on Madison avenue this afternoon for the purpose of discussing the charge of fraud made by Lord Dunraven against the syndicate controlling the Defender; and also to consider the most available course to pursue in the matter.

The conference began shortly after 4 o'clock and lasted until 5 p. m. The session was secret, but it was learned that Dunraven's charges were gone over and various suggestions made as to the course of the club in the matter.

Mr. Iselin made a statement in reply to his Lordship's accusations, emphatically refuting the charge that the Defender's load water line had been tampered with.

A Panic at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 14.—The bourse here was in a state of panic for several days past. All stocks, including rentes, declined rapidly. Various causes were ascribed for the collapse. The situation was so serious Wednesday that all the chief bank directors were summoned to the financial ministry where the director of the credit department severely reprimanded them and accused several of them of speculating for a fall. He instructed them how to remedy the trouble and the obeying of his instructions resulted in an upward tendency to-day as soon as the bourse opened.

Express Train Wrecked.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 14.—News reached Dallas to-night that the southbound express train on the Houston and Texas Central, leaving Dallas at 7.30 last night collided with the train on the Northwestern branch at the station at Bremond, about midnight. Engineer Wolfey, of the Northwestern train, was killed and Engineer Clark, of the main line badly injured. Nearly 20 passengers received slight bruises. As six cars were ordered from Dallas it is evident that one or both trains were badly damaged.

COAST DEFENSE.

General Miles's Opinion Endorsed by Military Experts.

HELPLESS SEA COAST CITIES.

They Would be at the Mercy of Any First Class Power in Case of War—More Forts and Battle Ships Are Greatly Needed.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The defenseless condition of the American coast which the general of the army has recently elaborated with much precision of detail, is for the moment the principal subject of conversation among army and navy officers. Gen. Miles's declaration that England, notwithstanding her great navy, would be practically helpless against a powerful adversary, but for her system of coast defenses, is fully indorsed by both branches of the service. Admiral John G. Walker, who represents the progressive element of the new navy, regards coast defenses and a navy as the complement of each other. That is to say, no great country can protect itself without both systems of defense. What Admiral Walker says in this connection is significant not only because of his knowledge of military matters, but for the further reason that he believes war between the United States and a strong foreign power would demonstrate how ill this country is prepared for such an encounter.

"I am a good American," said Admiral Walker this morning, "but I cannot shut my eyes to cold facts. We are not prepared to-day to engage in war with any first-class power. We are in the position the China occupied in her recent struggle with Japan. We have a vast population, great wealth, boundless resources and intense patriotism. But we cannot maintain an offensive or defensive attitude against any one of the half dozen foreign countries. What Gen. Miles says about the defenseless condition of our coast cities is entirely correct.

"It is true that New York and San Francisco are better protected than our other commercial cities, but even they would be helpless against the assaults of a dozen powerful ironclads. So far as the remaining cities are concerned, they have no protection whatever."

"What do you think the government ought to do?"

"Congress ought to make liberal appropriations for coast defenses and for additional ships of war. More than anything else we need a strong navy. If we had a dozen battleships of the Indiana class on the Atlantic coast, we could defy as powerful a maritime country as Great Britain. We have now four battleships building and two others have been appropriated for. We need at least seven more. If Congress would appropriate the money, two of these ships ought to be given to the Cramps, two to the Huntington yard at Newport News; one to the Union Iron Works at San Francisco and the others ought to be built at the navy yards at Brooklyn and Norfolk. With anything like a fair system of coast defense we would then be beyond the probability of war. There would be no more Corinto incidents, no more talk of foreign aggressions on American soil. The United States would be pre-eminent on the American continent. The greatest precaution against war is to be fully prepared for it."

"What about the Pacific coast?"

"Three battleships would be sufficient for those waters, as the only probability of trouble there might be with the countries to the south of us, and three such vessels would amply protect us from their assaults."

METHODIST BISHOPS.

The Missionary Conference Now in Session at Denver.

Denver, Nov. 14.—The formal sessions of the general missionary conference of the Methodist Episcopal church began today in the Trinity church, which is known as the largest and finest Methodist church edifice in the world. Bishop Joyce called the meeting to order, and Dr. S. F. Upham read a chapter from the Bible and offered the opening prayer. The roll call showed a very full attendance, the important absentees being Bishop Hurst, detained by death in his family; Dr. Buckley, by illness of a member of his household, and Dr. T. H. Burch, by the death of his son, who died while the Doctor was enroute to Denver.

Dr. O. Z. Baldwin was elected secretary and Dr. Sanford Hunt, the treasurer, read his report, which was accepted. It was decided to name a special committee consisting of one bishop and other members of the general committee, to whom the different applications for special appropriations should be referred.

The day's business was the serious problem of how much to appropriate for missions, how to divide the sum, and how to provide for the debt now amounting to $250,000.

The debate upon this subject occupied nearly the entire morning session, and it was extremely spirited. It was decided to appropriate $1,000,000 for missions next year, 45 per cent. for home and 55 per cent. for foreign missions. To divide the sum for home missions a general rule was established to scale down the appropriations of last year just 7 per cent, leaving all instances for special leniency to the special committee previously named. Few conferences, however, escaped the 7 per cent. cut, the Black Hills district being one of the few exceptions.

In the discussion on the main question Bishop Foss said that if a reduction of the amount to $1,000,000 meant the recall of a single missionary he was opposed to it. Dr. Shier objected to any reduction of any kind. Bishop Fowler objected to all efforts to reduce the appropriation, and denounced the insidious attempts of those behind the movement to reduce it. He said that he knew the day when the total expenditures did not exceed $150,000, the debt was $200,000, over 60 per cent of the receipts, and yet they managed to get along without trouble.

Dr. Sanford Hunt, the treasurer, said that he would make public for the first time that there was a period when the society owed a debt of $514,000, and that every dollar of this was represented by a note signed by him. This was carefully kept from the public lest some newspaper should discover it, and with flaming headlines announce the fact that the society owes over half a million dollars. He suggested an appropriation of $950,000 for missions, $119,000 for other expenses and $160,000 towards reducing the debt, a total of $1,160,000, which is within $5,000 of last year's receipts.

Many motions were made and parliamentary tactics were used to prevent the proposition to set the fund at $1,000,000, but it finally prevailed. The distribution of the home mission fund was not completed to-day.

SCHLATTER DISAPPEARS.

The Court and His Patients Vainly Wait His Appearance.

Denver, Nov. 14.—Thousands of people, poor and afflicted, waited patiently under the lowering skies and chilly wind this morning for the appearance of Francis Schlatter, the healer. When he failed to appear a bitter murmur arose, and the disappointment was keen. Then rumors were passed from one mouth to the other and the whole city was lost in conjecture. Some had it he was seen near Greeley, others claimed he was walking hatless and shivering over the fields near Golden; that he took the night train to Chicago. Conflicting reports were rife.

All that was positively known was that he had departed from the Fox home in the night, taking all his gifts of warm clothing and leaving behind this brief note:

"Mr. Fox—My mission is finished. Father takes me away. Good-bye.

"FRANCIS SCHLATTER.

"Nov. 13th."

The crowd was at first inclined to make trouble, but they withdrew after demolishing the fence for souvenirs. Many touched the boards on which Schlatter had stood, and thus carried away his mystic influence.

Schlatter was subpoenaed early in October to appear before United States Commissioner Capron to-day, to testify in the case of three manufacturers of fraudulent "blessed" handkerchiefs. When Schlatter failed to appear this morning and it was definitely ascertained that he had skipped town, the case was postponed until Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Commissioner Capron said this morning: "He will appear here as subpoenaed, as we will send officers after him. The United States attorney will indicate what he wishes done, although no action has been taken yet."

All the trains from the East this morning brought in an increased number of people from Kansas, Nebraska and Wyoming to visit Schlatter, and many were the disappointed countenances to be seen around the down-town hotels. A few immediately purchased return tickets, and are leaving for their homes this evening. The railroad officials are telegraphing all agents to inform all invalids buying tickets to Denver that the Messiah had left the city.

A report to-night locates Schlatter at Rooney's ranch, between Golden and Morrison. Rooney was one of the believers in Schlatter, and had invited the healer to come there to rest before starting for Chicago.

A late report to-night locates Schlatter afoot heading for Gray's Peak, where amid snows at an altitude of 14,000 feet he will confer with the prophets and return refreshed in three days.

BURNED IN BOSTON.

A Whisky Warehouse Destroyed with a Loss of Two Lives.

Boston, Nov. 14.—The five-story brick building at 200 and 202 Congress street was gutted by fire this afternoon. It was occupied entirely by the Empire Distilling company. Several persons were injured. They are Lieut. Fox of engine 25, hand badly cut by glass. Alice Farry, employe of the Empire company, dislocated shoulder. Joseph Bradley, clerk, broken ankle. James Connelly, cooper, in the employ of the Empire company, seriously burned about hands and face. Little is known of the origin of the fire. There was suddenly an explosion of alcohol on the second floor and in a minute two more followed. Then it seemed as though the whole structure was burning. The flames spread with remarkable rapidity and when the first detail of apparatus arrived, were pouring with huge volumes of smoke from every window of the five floors. About twenty men were employed in the building, but fortunately most of them had gone to dinner. The flames communicated to the buildings of A. P. Tapley & Co., boots and shoes, and of Thompson and Norris, paper boxes, but the damage to each was slight. No panic was created among some 45 girls employed in the Thompson and Norris factory and they rushed wildly through the building. Some of them would have jumped from windows had they not been prevented, but all finally got out in safety.

A similar state of affairs occurred in the confectionery shop of W. M. Lowney, in the rear of the distilling company's building. Four hundred girls are employed there and when the smoke from the burning building reached the candy factory, the girls became panic-stricken. Many of them fainted in the rush and excitement but all escaped injury.

The Empire Distilling company's loss is about $5,000; partly insured. The building, which was owned by William H. Starford, was valued at $10,000 and insured.

A Crooked Failure.

Fairbury, Neb., Nov. 14.—Something of a sensational nature is developing in the Steele City bank failure of a few days ago. Some weeks since C. B. Rice, the sole proprietor of the defunct bank, put up several notes as security for $3000 with the State National bank of St. Joseph, Mo. To-day it developed that the notes were forgeries. One on the lumber firm of Train Bros. of that city was pronounced a forgery while several others are known to be fraudulent. Rice is nowhere to be found. His wife is in the city but she refuses to divulge his whereabouts. It is surmised that much more crooked work will be unearthed.

Guilty of Embezzlement.

Denver, Nov. 14.—Walter C. Westcott, ex-receiver of the United States land office at Del Norte, was arraigned in the United States Court before Judge Hallett on the charge of embezzling $1,677. He withdrew his former plea of not guilty and substituted a plea of guilty. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the county jail, and fined the amount embezzled and costs of the trial.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Yesterday's Proceedings in the National Assembly.

MATTERS OF LEGISLATION.

These Occupied the Attention of the Delegates—Reported Trouble in the Treasurer's Report Denied—Other Matters.

Washington, Nov. 14.—This morning's session of the general assembly of the Knights of Labor was taken up entirely with a discussion of the report of the committee on law and when recess was taken at 1:30 its consideration had not been concluded. The proposition to reduce the per capita tax from 2 cents per month to 1 was defeated, the drift of the argument going to show that the organization needed the money thus received for the institution of new assemblies and the propagation of the general work of the order. It was also thought that this tax was not so heavy but that it could be borne easily by the members until the organization was on a firmer footing.

The constitution was also amended so as to take from the past general workman the right to vote in the general assembly, but permitting him to retain his seat as an advisory member with authority to participate in all debate.

Mr. Powderly, although now under suspension, is the official thus deprived of the vote in question. He is not present, and it was explicitly stated that no feeling of animosity towards Mr. Powderly actuated the assembly. The new rule will apply in the same manner to Mr. Sovereign when he retires one year hence. It was said that if a past-master workman had the proper standing in his own jurisdiction his district would send him as an accredited delegate and the present provision of the constitution was for that reason unnecessary.

One of the prominent officials of the assembly made the statement to-day that all rumors derogatory to the report of Treasurer Hayes were false. The report, he said, made a favorable showing, but the assembly at this time did not care to make it public. No place has been suggested yet in the assembly for the next meeting, but the friends of Hot Springs, Ark., are doing a good deal of quiet and effective work in behalf of that city.

The afternoon session of the Knights of Labor was devoted to a further discussion of proposed amendments to the constitution, the most important of these disposed of being that which provided for the payment of the taxes assessed by the general assembly, through the district organization instead of the general assembly as at present. This was defeated, the ballot bringing out the point that the proposed change would facilitate disruption if that end was sought to be accomplished.

Another important question, still undetermined is a proposed amendment giving district assemblies power to initiate legislation during the recess of the general assembly, such proposed legislation being submitted to all the district bodies for final action. There was much opposition to this and an amendment was added providing that local organizations could initiate legislation under prescribed conditions, the same to be approved or disapproved by all the local organizations. This will be further discussed to-morrow.

Various other matters of minor importance were discussed, but no final action was taken save to defeat the proposition to appoint the committees on law and credentials after the delegates to the general assembly had arrived at their place of meeting. It was thought to be more economical to permit the present arrangement to stand and have these committees, designated by the grand master workman, go to the place of meeting in advance and prepare contests before the arrival of the assembly.

A Courthouse Burned.

Elwood, Neb., Nov. 14.—The Jasper county court house burned this morning. Fire was first seen about 4:30, and the building was in ashes at 5:30. The record vault seems to be intact, and the records safe. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The building was insured for about one-half value.

WEST CREEK.

Lots of Work Going on and the Prospects Good.

The new mining camp of West Creek is situated about eight miles northwest of Manitou Park, and is reached by stage from Woodland Park, a dirve of 16 or 18 miles. A very large number of claims have been staked and some 500 or 600 people are in camp, and are as busy as bees doing their assessment work.

Mr. Robert D. Weir, who made a flying trip to the Springs yesterday, speaks with an enthusiasm of the district which it is quite evident he finds it hard to suppress. What he told The Gazette of the district speaks very well for the new camp, and it is quite probable that much more in its favor could have been said but Mr. Weir is desirous of erring on the side of conservatism.

Mr. Weir says that the country is a very easy one to prospect when one has learned to know the rock, which is no the same as Cripple Creek, though the locality is not very far from our gold camp. The veins crop right to the surface very distinctly, and run parallel to each other so there is no very serious conflicts in the numerous claims laid out. Several assays have been made on ore taken a few feet from the surface, and they show remarkable results. Some of the assays were made in this city and some by Burlingame & Wood of Denver. One assay which Mr. Weir saw went as much as $170 to the ton, and two 100 samples gave returns of $84 and $55 to the ton. Some ore has been found containing free gold and some with sylvanite thereon.

There is a plentiful supply of good water in the camp, but other accommodations for visitors are poor at present. This will be improved inside of a week as several buildings are going up. It is quite cold up there, and the prospectors have not been having a very good time.

The point that Mr. Weir desired to make most strongly was that the business men of Colorado Springs should be represented at the camp. It is just as easy for Colorado Springs men to get there as it is for Denverites, and if the camp turns out as well as many expect now there will be lots of business doing. Mr. Weir says that all that is needed is investigation and this everybody in camp courts, as they have great faith in the district.

A Long Lead.

Probably the longest continuous ore chute yet opened up in the district, says the Cripple Creek Times, is that found on the south slope of Bull hill and which extends from the south end line of the Last Dollar to the north line of the Grouse. Whether it extends through the American Eagles to the north or into the Portland ground on the south is not yet proven, but thus far it has been opened in the five shafts of the Last Dollar, the Ruby, Lafayette, two Orphans, the Rapp lease on the Specimen, the Porcupine and the Grouse, a distance of nearly 1,000 feet. The vein while not as large as several others in the district, is very rich and almost as straight as an arrow its entire length. The west or foot wall is also as smooth as the wall of a house and the ore is very rich almost the entire length of the vein as opened up. At neither end is there any indication of its cutting off and how much further it will be opened is only a matter of conjecture. This vein is at the present time producing more ore than any other in the district although several different mines in the district send out more from a single hole than is sent out from any single shaft on this vein.

The people who have the option on the stock of the Nugget Mining and Milling company were to have made a payment of $50,000 on the 19th instant, but were granted an extension of 30 days by paying interest in advance on the sum named for one month. A payment of $20,000 was made when the option was given.

Resigns as School Director.

Rev James B. Gregg, D.D., has placed his resignation as a member of the school board for this district in the hands of the president. Dr. Gregg has been a member of the board for a great many years, but feels that the press of duties in other directions compels him to give up this work. His successor will be appointed by the school board and will hold until the next regular election.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

A big crowd greeted Mr. Gravitt, the Evangelist last evening at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Several stated their desire and determination to lead Christian lives at the close of the meeting.

All boys are reminded of the meeting for boys this afternoon at 4 o'clock. All members of the juniors who are willing to distribute some invitations for the service this afternoon are asked to come to the rooms and get them this morning or noon.

Evangelist Gravitt will speak to-night at the association rooms on the subject, "The Sin of Unbelief." This is one of his strongest subjects and he has a powerful sermon on it. Mrs. Fanny Aiken Tucker will sing at this service. The meeting will as usual be at 8 o'clock for men only.

Herrmann the Great.

There will be cause for wonder and mystery at the Opera House Monday evening, for Herrmann with his imps of magic and his entertainment of mirth will hold high carnival there. To witness an evening's performance as Herrmann's audience is like taking a visit through fairyland and as the magician's programme this season is very elaborate and crowded full of spectacular mast-comedy, few will possibly miss the opportunity of seeing him. At no other time has he gone to such expense in presenting such extravagant novelties. He carries with him special scenery, special lighting apparatus, surprising electrical inventions and the special leader of orchestra to introduce new melodies and accompanying airs. In his entertainment is also introduced songs and dances and the magician will be seen in one of his acts in the role of Mephisto, with the characteristic make-up attributed to this gentleman. Madame Herrmann will introduce some new creations in spectacular dances, with the aid of many different colored lights, which are expected to make a great sensation here.

Pauline Hall.

Pauline Hall and her brilliant company will be the attraction at the opera house to-morrow evening in the presentation of the merry operatic comedy, "Dorcas." Among the best known members of the cast are the Misses Jeanette St. Henry, Eva Davenport, Drew Donaldson, Mabel Irvine and the Messrs. Hugh Chilvers, Edgar Temple Saylor, Charles Bradshaw, Arthur E. Miller, Neil O'Brien, Charles Sarle, Arthur E. Miller, Charles Myer, Downing Clark and James F. Grant. The music contained in "Dorcas" is absolutely all new, none of it having been heard in this city, all of it being specially written for Miss Hall during her late European tour, by the famous authors, Johann Strauss, Ivan Caryll Czibourke, Millocher, Dr. Carl Zeller and Max Hirschfeld.

The Boston in Commission.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The cruiser Boston, which has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired at the Mare Island navy yard, will go into commission on the 18th instant. She will be assigned to the Asiatic station for duty in the Chinese waters.

Mr. W. S. Alexander, the rustling mining editor of the Cripple Creek Times, is in the city for a few days. Mr. Alexander has been in the camp two years now and has had most exceptional facilities for knowing it. Every day he rides for miles over the camp visiting the mines and miners, and like every one who does that he is an enthusiast. He is a missionary too and spreads the good news abroad both by tongue and pen. Mr. Alexander said last night that he is simply amazed with what the camp has done since he went there, and the most amazing part is that only a part of the great district has been touched. Take Mineral and Tenderfoot hills for instance and there has really been but little done to show what they are yet, and there is every reason to believe that they are as good as Raven, Bull or Gold hills. A year ago Gold hill had not been scratched and now look at it. People are coming into camp at a great rate. Yesterday morning as he came out the stages in were all crowded and about twelve men had to walk over from the end of the stage line.

GEORGIA, THE ATLANTA FAIR AND THE SOUTH.

Triumphant Americanism—The Militia and the Negro—A Serious Problem—Reasoning of a Jury—Where the Anglo-Saxon Is an Exotic.

[Special Correspondence.]

ATLANTA, Nov. 11. Atlanta has many distinguished citizens in every walk of life and in the city and near vicinity is a surprisingly large number of men who have been of national note at one time or another. In the Fifth United States regiment at Fort McPherson, for instance, is Major John S. Clem, whose title was long ago established to have been the youngest soldier who served in the war for the Union. In the supply department at the same post is a gentleman who claims to be the sole survivor of the Custer massacre and has his claim allowed by the community, but I shall not celebrate him by name just yet, as, according to my recollection, there was no survivor of the companies, which went into action with General Custer, while nearly all those with Major Reno survived. The Captain Benteen who commanded one of those companies and was the subject of such a fierce controversy, lives some four miles from town in honorable retirement. General James Longstreet is often claimed as an Atlanta man, but his home is at Gainesville some 40 miles away, and I am sorry to add that the old animosity against him has been somewhat revived by the criticism of General Lee in his book.

The Monroe Doctrine Again.

Hon. W. L. Scruggs is perhaps the most quoted man in Atlanta just now, as his service in Venezuela as United States minister and his work on the British aggressions are very much in evidence. His talk is warlike and all Atlanta is with him. I doubt if there is another city in the Union where there is so much rampant Americanism as here, and the slightest favorable allusion in a speech to Cuban independence is sure to evoke a storm of applause. I have my suspicions as to the underlying causes of the fierce sentiment here for the Monroe doctrine and Spanish-Americans, but it is well to encourage patriotism without inquiring too closely. Another highly honored citizen is ex-Governor Northen, now at the head of the Immigration society for Georgia, and though ex-Governor and Senator Joseph Brown is dead the citizens point with pride to his queer old family carriage as it rolls in every day along Washington street. "Atlantaism" covers a multitude of sins here. The man who is for the city may be against almost anything he pleases. Many old railroad men are here who are chock full of reminiscences, and among them Mr. George W. Adair, conductor on the first passenger train to run into the city. He quit the business in disgust when the sale of tickets was introduced, averring that it was an insult to all conductors and an imputation on their honesty, and one of his most cherished convictions today is that all such things as registers, bell punches, pass boxes and the like are conclusive proofs that Americans are declining in honesty. I remember that such talk was common among old men 40 years ago, and in our section, settled chiefly by southerners, it was taken as a demonstrated truth that the present generation could not march or fight like its forefathers and that the north would not fight the south anyhow.

Military Matters.

The most picturesque figure among the men of the past is Colonel John McIntosh Kell, adjutant general of the state. He was executive officer of the privateer Alabama, and when she went down under the heavy shots of the Kearsarge, he jumped overboard with a package containing her important papers, holding it by a string in his teeth. He reached the friendly British vessel near by and so got to England with the documents. He is a native of Liberty, Ga., and is 73 years old, a wonderfully well preserved and vigorous man, still a fine specimen of manhood. In an hour at his office in the state capitol I learned that the immediately available troops of Georgia are 4,700 well armed and well drilled volunteer militia, 3,500 white and 1,200 colored. The names and locations of the colored companies are significant. At Macon are the Lincoln guards, the show company of the state, as in that county Bibb are rather the most tony and wealthy negroes. At Rome are the Star guards and at Albany the Colquitt guards, named in honor of the senator, who is probably the most popular white man in the state with the colored people, and this company is chiefly composed of men who were once his slaves or the sons of such.

The state also has three independent battalions of colored infantry. Thus the negroes have almost as large a proportion of troops as the whites, and all armed by the state with the very finest weapons of the latest pattern. I questioned some of the colored militia of Atlanta and found them redhot for a fight in favor of Cuba, but as to Venezuela they are not interested, and indeed the colored people generally have none of that hatred to England which is so common among ignorant whites. In fact, they know almost nothing about England, while in some way they have learned a great deal about Cuba. Beyond question they would fight valiantly against any foreign foe, but in case of a riot by their own race, of course, they could not be trusted and would not be called out. Governor Atkinson talked with great freedom on these and other matters of state interest, and without exactly saying so gave me the impression that he looked for a pretty long and hard pull before the relations of the two races were thoroughly adjusted.

Illiteracy and Crime.

"The convict system," said he, "is certainly not what we could wish, but it expires by limitation in 1899, and by that time we can do far better. We have a problem here which is unknown and not understood in the north. In all the prisons and gangs, state, city and county, there are nearly 4,000, and nine-tenths of them colored, and yet merely moral offenses in the colored are ignored. They have all the privileges of a white man and a few more. One is to change wives without being imprisoned for it. I need not philosophize, as the case is plain, at least to this extent: The colored people have been put under the requirements of a high civilization before they could develop up to it. They are perfectly free agents and exposed to a thousand temptations, while their moral strength is still much as it was in slavery and barbarism. All we can do is to make allowances, educate and trust to time and experience." Governor Atkinson looks every inch a governor, with his tall and graceful form, clear complexion, expressive eyes and half Greek, half aquiline profile, and one would never suspect that he but recently left his bed after one of the most trying operations in surgery. Consulting a document to which he referred me, I found the figures even more startling than he had intimated. According to the official statement for October of Principal Keeper Turney of the penitentiary convicts increased 42 per cent in 1880-90, while population increased but 19 per cent. Crime among the colored has increased almost in the exact ratio that illiteracy has decreased, the white convicts are less than 10 per cent of the whole that is, there is one convict in each 388 colored and but one in 4,571 whites and of the colored 763 were sentenced when under the age of 21 and 156 under the age of 17! To call such figures appalling and stop there would be criminal moderation. They certainly demand the attention of students of crime.

Negro Responsibility.

A recent occurrence illustrates the general thought of the whites on negro responsibility. A negro hired to drive a coal cart was trusted to come and go without close scrutiny and when occasion served hauled a few lumps to his own house. His employer was very indignant on discovering the theft he had not lived long in the south and prosecuted with vigor. The proof was direct and abundant and no defense could be made, yet to the employer's disgust and my amazement the jury acquitted. One of them, when asked the reason, broke forth somewhat indignantly: "What! Send a good nigger like that to the chain gang six months for stealin a dollar's worth of coal! 'Twould be ridiculous. The man knowed he was a nigger and oughtn't to have trusted him that way. In fact, the man ought to be punished a little himself for the temptation. Suppose we sent our cooks to jail for takin coffee and sugar and so on from our kitchens 'why they ain't jails enough! Ridiculous perfectly ridiculous!" The funniest part of it was the indorsement of the prisoner as "a good nigger," "a good workin nigger." So long as he worked well small thefts and bigamy need not be noticed.

Per contra be it noted that in 1870, when first separately assessed, the negroes of this state owned property valued at $5,182,398; while in 1890 it was $12,922,003 and in 1893 $14,960,675. But this year it is only $12,941,230. The whites show an equal loss, and all that and much more is on the farms, for city property has increased in value. Country editors attending the exposition complain bitterly that the farmers have no money. How can they have money in a country which averages but 22 bushels of corn and nine of wheat per acre, and other food crops in proportion, when cotton is but half a crop and the grass burned up by drought so that stockmen had to buy feed early in September?

Samson was strong and Solomon was wise, but neither could draw blood out of a turnip or pay the printer under such circumstances. By the way, it may interest some people to know that Georgia pensions Indigent Confederate soldiers and the widows of such, and the amount paid the last year was $190,000 to veterans, $230,000 to widows, the average being $60 per year each. And as this is my last letter from Atlanta I present my conclusions on the exposition, the state and the south.

A Review.

The first is a grand success as an exhibit and an average success as to attendance, but there are some sad disappointments. Of the concessionnaires all but three or four will lose money; too many concessions were granted for the biggest crowd possible in times like these. With the sole exception of the Egyptian theater ("coochee coochee," "danse du ventre" and that sort of thing) and the "shooting the chute," every show on the Midway was losing money down to the first of this month. There are twice as many as there should be. The support of an exposition necessarily comes chiefly from a region within a 200-mile circuit, and to the southern farmer this year a silver quarter looks as big as a cart wheel. Otherwise the affair is a brilliant success, especially the Negro building, the fireworks, the electric fountains and the government exhibit. As to Georgia, she is still the empire state of the south and long to remain so unless Alabama's iron takes her to the front.

As to the south, I see no cause to change my oft expressed opinion that while this central highland will maintain a fair rate of progress for many years or even centuries the south as a whole can never have a boom in the least resembling those of the new states in the northwest. The soil is not here. In all the world there is no other continuous body of fertile land like that which stretches from Pennsylvania to middle Kansas and from the Ohio to the Saskatchewan. Furthermore, as soon as one goes down the slope to where the streams run sluggishly and form bayous he strikes a region where the white race is at an immense disadvantage. Where wheat does not grow and grass does not form a sod there the Anglo-Saxon is an exotic. All that region will be given up to the negroes. In half of it they already outnumber the whites four to one. And before many years, my guess is, that section will be divided into districts and governed by commissions appointed by the states, the whites of the highland ruling all without participation of the blacks.

No Cow's Milk in the Japanese Nursery.

It is curious that the Japanese mother finds no value in that standby of the American nursery cow's milk. "No Nipponite mother of the old and really interesting Japanese school," says a recent writer, "is able to even bear to give the child of her bosom cow's milk, 'the milk of a brute,' as she contemptuously terms the beverage." In consequence of this abjuring of milk the Japanese baby takes to its tea drinking and rice eating as soon as it is weaned. The rice is served hot at breakfast and dinner and cold for supper, with hot tea poured over it.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "the Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, to-day and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of sea bathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of reclining chair cars, Pullman palace sleepers and Pullman dining cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists' favorite. Ask your agent for tickets via this route.

AFTER THE COUNT.

Now that the official count is over, we think it is in order once more to congratulate the people of El Paso county—not the Republicans only, but the Democrats and Populists as well, on the result of the election held ten days ago. We believe that it was for the best interest of all of us, without distinction of party, that the Republican ticket should win in that election. All of us, we presume, are anxious for the continued progress and prosperity of the county, for the maintenance of law and order, and the prompt and even-handed administration of justice. Very few of us had any personal interest in the result of the election, except as it might affect these public matters. The men who are now shown to have been elected are capable and honest men, who will give us a good administration of county affairs for the next two years—at least a majority of us have so believed, as is evidenced by the vote which has now been counted.

Now that the ballot has pronounced its judgment, let us lay aside all bickerings and jealousies, and work together for the good of the county, for its growth in everything good, for the promotion of its material prosperity and the advancement of its intellectual and moral welfare.

Political contests should leave no bitterness behind them. That should be buried in the ballot-box that records the will of the majority and to that will all of us should loyally bow. The men who have been chosen by the people will soon be our officers, and those of us who voted against them will be served by them just as much as those who voted for them. Judge Lunt will not enquire of suitors in his court which way they voted on the 5th of November, and the Populist property-owner will pay no more taxes in proportion than his Republican neighbor. A Republican who may commit legal wrong will be arrested just as surely and quickly, and tried just as impartially, as any Democrat or Populist who does the same thing.

We have the best State in the Union, and the best county in the State, and the best town in the county; let us make the most of them, and work together for them in every enterprise which may tend to their advancement.

The annual address of the Grand Master Workman of the Knights of Labor which was published in our columns yesterday morning, is a rather remarkable production. It is noteworthy for three points especially: first, its emphasis on the "treachery" within the bounds of the order; second, its "bluff" and third, its rhodomontade on the subject of the oppression of labor at the present time. Mr. Sovereign has not as much brains as Mr. Powderly. The rhetorical periods in which he describes the dreadful condition of the laboring man will irresistibly excite that most fatal of criticisms—ridicule. When he talked about the necessary conflict between labor and capital, he simply apes Debs, and says things that no sensible workman can possibly indorse. In fact, Mr. Sovereign has proved himself to be a small man in a large place; and if he stays at the head of the order another year, it will be a reflection on the good sense of the Knights of Labor.

The officers of the Wells-Fargo Express company are justified somewhat in feeling that too much has been said in the public prints regarding the probabilities of catching the robbers. Newspaper enterprise is very well, but there is no reason why it should be carried so far as to do an injury to any one. The Wells-Fargo company has been unfortunate in this locality the past year, and of course it is to be regretted. Such affairs are common in new and wild countries, but who could have the foresight to know that in peaceful and quiet old Colorado Springs such acts would be committed so boldly? It is easy to say that it was carelessness, but the officers of the Wells-Fargo company in this State are old and experienced in the business in a business-like manner. they know how much they are carrying and they know exactly what it costs. They take no more risks in carrying valuables than is necessary and guard them as fully as seems justifiable. If they make mistakes once in a while they alone pay for it. No doubt they calculate on a certain percentage of loss every year, just as other business concerns do. They certainly take no more risk and have no greater proportionate loss than does Uncle Sam with the mails. The Wells-Fargo company has done business here for many years, quietly, carefully and with a desire to give the public excellent service. There is nothing to be gained by publishing every move to the robbers and certainly nothing to be gained by sneering at the efforts of those who are striving to catch them.

There is evidently to be a determined effort to carry the next national Republican convention to San Francisco. The Pacific coast "boomers" have been at work for some months, and if liberal offers will get the convention, it is theirs. Doubtless it would be an interesting thing to have the convention go nearly 2000 miles further west than it has ever yet been, but what practical good would result? So far as the interests of silver are concerned, San Francisco would be no better place than Chicago, and hardly as good as Pittsburg. As for the electoral votes to be offered, California has only nine, and Oregon and Washington four each—just about half as many in all as Pennsylvania has alone. Still, it makes not much difference where the next convention is held. Its candidate is surer of election than any candidate that has been before the people since Grant in 1872.

The report that Mr. Cleveland will consent to Hawaiian annexation in any form whatever needs the most confirming kind of confirmation before any one is likely to believe it. That he would consent to any annexation scheme on condition of a submission thereof to the Hawaiian voters is, to say the least, extremely improbable. The first case of acknowledgment on the part of Mr. Cleveland that he was ever wrong in anything he did has yet to become public. If he should consent now to annexation of Hawaii in any form, it would be a sort of confession that he was wrong two years ago; therefore there will be no such consent. Q. E. D.

The list of delinquent taxpayers of El Paso county is printed in the Weekly Gazette of Nov. 14, and is a matter of interest to a great many readers. Doubtless many of those whose names appear in the list are there simply from carelessness, and their taxes will be paid before the property goes under the hammer. El Paso county is in better shape financially to-day than at any time during the past three years, and property in this county is worth more to-day than at any time since the election of Waite in 1892.

Schlatter has closed a remarkable career in Denver by an equally remarkable performance. Opinions differ and will continue to differ as to whether this man is divinely inspired, or whether he is a sincere fanatic, or whether he is a conscious impostor. His latest escapade is not likely to favor the "Nulli" of his devotees.

THE TATTLER.

Mrs. Gladstone is a very fine organist and still plays occasionally at chapel worship.

It is reported that Amelie Rives Chanler will appear on the stage, but the story is denied by her friends.

Gail Hamilton was a teacher in the Hartford high school before the war, and went from there to Washington in 1857.

It is given out officially that Mme. Melba is just 30 years old and a long disputed question is thus settled. Her maiden name was Mitchells.

Mrs. William Windom, the wife of the late secretary of the treasury, has returned to Washington to spend the winter. She has leased a house in Massachusetts avenue.

The will of the late Mrs. Heloise C. Smith of West Chester, Pa., bequeaths her country seat, worth $100,000 to the Protestant Episcopal City Mission of West Chester. An endowment accompanies the real estate.

Mrs. Tompkins, the new woman of Bowdoinham, Me., who has carried on a farm this summer, has cut and stored her own hay, harvested all her crops and is now hauling produce to Sells' station with a yoke of oxen.

The wife of Lord Marcus Beresford is a slim, graceful woman, about 30 years old, possessing much vivacity and charm of manner. She has a picturesque ivy-clad retreat at Englefield Green, on the border of Windsor park, where she pursues the hobby of cat breeding.

Mrs. Emma Losie Orcutt, who has won some favor with her novels and sketches, lives at Chicopee, Mass. Her maiden name was Fuller, and she traces her ancestry back to Robert Fuller, who settled in Salem in 1635. A number of her relatives have been well known in newspaper and literary work.

Mrs. Charles Gwyn of Baltimore is having built at Old Orchard, Me., a "seaside rest" for missionaries of all churches who are recruiting from their labors. They will be expected to pay 75 cents a day for lodgings, with every comfort and luxury. Their meals will be free. The place is being beautifully fitted up and will be dedicated next June.

Mme. Thalberg, widow of the pianist and daughter of the great basso Lablache, died recently in Thalberg's villa at Posilipo, in Naples, at the age of 84. When her husband died, she had the body embalmed with a petrifying preparation that preserved it well, ... and kept it ... in the room where Thalberg used to work.

Mrs. U. S. Grant, who has just purchased ex-Senator Edmunds' house in Washington for $80,000, is a very young looking woman for her age. Her hair is only slightly touched with gray. Her voice and manner are youthful, but her brow shows a few wrinkles ...

OUR GIRLS.

The latest thing in fall faces is the bloomer blush.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Every woman temporarily renews her youth when reading a good love story.—Atchison Globe.

We shouldn't be surprised if the new fall woman had something up her sleeve.—Detroit Tribune.

One disadvantage of the bloomer habit is that girls may use their bloomers for Christmas stockings.—Judge.

Perhaps, after all, the brightest liberty belle in this country is the lovely American girl.—Atlanta Constitution.

Now it is claimed that bloomers are better for winter than for summer wear. How about bathing suits?—Chicago Post.

Women have worn their hats punched into so many extraordinary shapes that it seems more or less remarkable that they have never yet conceived the idea of wearing them inside out.—Somerville Journal.

It is estimated that the use of the fashionable big sleeves in Chicago alone has added $1,000,000 a year to the cost of women's dress. If this estimate is correct, what must be the cost for the world at large?—Minneapolis Tribune.

THE FULLERTON CONSUMPTION CURE

Taking as a basis the fact that Consumption is due to a bacilli, as fully demonstrated by Koch in 1882, and later by hundreds of scientists throughout the world, it only remained for the investigator to find a remedy that would destroy the germ without harm to the patient, and that remedy we claim to offer in the Fullerton Consumption Cure, incorporating in a beautiful limpid antiseptic solution one of the best recognized tonics, a specific alterative, and a powerful vegetable germicide, which is injected hypodermically directly into the capillary circulation, is quickly absorbed without special irritation, carried by the veins to the right side of the heart, from thence pumped directly through the pulmonary arteries into the lungs, coming in direct contact with the disease.

This treatment is no longer a vague theory. It has safely passed its experimental stage, and for more than four years has been successfully used, furnishing positive proof that if intelligently administered for a sufficient length of time it will cure a greater per cent. of cases than any other known remedy.

LOCAL NEWS.

ADDITIONAL NEWS REGARDING THE EXPRESS ROBBERY.

The Hunt Has Not Ceased—Official Figures of the Vote Cast at the Late County Election—Grafton Led the List of Candidates.

There is very little that is new in the express robbery case. In fact it is being lost sight of in the hurry, rush of the markets, and it can hardly be said to have been a nine days wonder. The express companies never let up and some day these men will be found almost as sure as fate. There is really very little new to tell. Wednesday night Sheriff Bowers had a telegram from Sheriff Carver of Elbert county that he had two suspicious men under surveillance. He went out east on the Rock Island yesterday morning and then up to Elbert. Here he found that the men were a couple of unoffending ranchmen. He went on into Denver and then came down here. This had the effect of starting a story in Denver that he had gone out with a body of armed men on a special train.

Last evening another story was circulating that Deputy Bell had arrested some men at Victor supposed to be connected with the crime. It was probably Frank Ferrell, a crook who formerly lived at Colorado City, and who is wanted in Denver for diamond robbery. He is a Denver crook of the same class as Hancock and has worked with him.

Everything is quiet at the office of the Wells-Fargo company. Superintendent Stubbs and Col. Dodge are still in the city. Yesterday Mr. Andrews of Kansas City, the general manger arrived. Last evening a representative of The Gazette talked with them. They state that the robbery still continues to be something of a mystery. They have a number of clues that are being worked out, but there is nothing to give out that the public is interested in, or at least that there will any good arise from making public. They state that they are doing or having done everything that seems possible under the circumstances. Money will not be spared by the express company in this matter. Mr. Dodge said that the company has all of its valuables into camp well guarded and will continue to do so. It is not being done in a conspicuous way but is effective. The troubles of the last few years in this section and the reputation for great wealth has brought many bad characters here. They will have to be wonderfully bold and wonderfully clever if they catch the Fargo people again.

The express men feel that the newspapers of the country have been doing them considerable injury, and also a serious injury to the public by the printing of so many idle and baseless rumors. It is really helping out crime, they say, as it puts every criminal in the country on guard, and gives warning to the men who committed the crime.

OFFICIAL COUNT.

County Clerk Howbert and his assistants concluded the official count of the ballot taken at the election on Nov. 5. It has been the custom of The Gazette to print the entire table heretofore. As this was practically a local election and there are now 37 precincts in the county, it was thought best not to give it this year. It makes a large table, and is very costly, and there seems hardly a demand enough to justify the expense. If there is any one particularly interested in the vote of any particular precinct the table can be seen at the recorder's office at any time. The vote for the various candidates in the county is as follows:

Wagner Lectures.

Senta's ballad, which will be sung by Mrs. C. E. Palmer at Mr. Goldmark's first lecture on Richard Wagner is from the opera of the "Flying Dutchman," the subject taken from Heinrich Heine's version of the legend.

The scene in which the song is introduced represents Senta sitting among her companions who are spinning. To the whirring accompaniment of the violins they sing a very realistic spinning song, interrupted by the laughter of the girls as they rally Senta upon her sad looks. Senta replies with a weird and exquisitely melodious ballad, (Johohae, trafftihr das Schiff im Meere an") in which she tells the story of the Flying Dutchman and anticipates her own destiny.

Tickets for the course $3.00, single admission 75 cents. For sale at Hext & Williams Music store.

Captain Gathright of the police force took a stroll through some of the saloons of Colorado City yesterday and there recognized a young convict who is wanted. His name is Ed. Hixon and he is wanted for a robbery at Pueblo. Hixon is about 20 years old and has only been out of the penitentiary a short time. He is now in jail awaiting the arrival of Pueblo officers.

The entertainment to be given by the pupils of the Loretto Academy this evening at the opera house promises to be very interesting. The friends of this institution should turn out en masse and show their appreciation of the work done by the good Sisters, as well as to give encouragement to the children, many of whom come before the public for the first time.

HORSES AND HORSEMEN.

The 4-year-olds Bouncer, El Rami, Dentine and Bright Regent are among the best winners of the year.

Winwood, the Indiana yearling phenomenon, paced an exhibition quarter over the Cambridge City track recently in 32 seconds.

More 3-year-olds have this season been raced in all aged company than in any previous season, and the youngsters have far more than held their own.

Rey del Carreres has been leased by Richard Croker and will be sent to England to try conclusions with the British cracks. The consideration is said to be $10,000.

Sweepstakes, by Knight's Snowheels is the only mare that has produced two performers that have taken records better than 2.05, Hal Pointer and Star Pointer being the two.

A new rubber tire for bicycle sulkies has been patented in this country by an Englishman, who states that his invention will completely supersede the style of tire now in general use.

Father Time and his celebrated two minutes have escaped this year, apparently because sufficient inducement was not held out to Premier Salisbury to put Azoto against the mark.

Since the beginning of the Louisville meeting the Village farm stable has won more money in trotting and pacing races than was ever before won by a single string in the same length of time.

Guy, the rejuvenated white pacer with whom McHenry defeated Mascot and Flying Jib in that never to be forgotten free for all at Terre Haute, has reduced the track record at Franklin, Ind., to 2:16.

American nominations to the English Derby, Two Thousand Guineas and St. Leger of 1897 and the Grand Prix de Paris of the same year are more numerous than ever before, August and Oliver Belmont, P. Lorillard, D. Gideon, Richard Croker, H. Heaseman, J. R. Keene and Foxhall Keene being the American nominators. Horseman.

RIVAL CITIES.

Chicago gamblers carry faro layouts around in their hats. Chicago's motto is, "I will."—Kansas City Star.

It is rumored that Chicago is jealous of San Francisco. We do not believe this. Chicago is too conceited to be jealous of any spot on this planet.—Denver News.

Seventeen members of the Philadelphia police force have become converted and asked for prayers. This is a precedent that could be followed in other cities with beneficial results.—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

It is said the Atlanta midway is not so wicked as the one at the World's fair. It should be remembered that Atlanta has not the local material at hand to draw from which Chicago had.—New York Press.

We note with pain a disposition on the part of our Chicago exchanges to twit St. Louis on its lack of progressiveness and enterprise. St. Louis is really an excellent city—the second best in Missouri, in fact.—Kansas City Journal.

KATE FIELD.

Kate Field says that she still clings to the garb of our mothers. As long as Kate holds out the hideous bloomers cannot take complete possession of the country.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Kate Field says that she would rather wander around in the streets of Cripple Creek at any hour of the day or night than to walk about the streets of Chicago. A Chicago paper responds that they are perfectly willing to have it that way.—Dubuque Times.

Kate Field writes from the top of Pike's peak, saying, "I am now standing 14,147 feet above the level of the sea." It is not often that Kate is behind the times, but those are obsolete figures. Government engineers made a survey a few months ago which shows the peak to be 15,000 feet in height.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

CUBA.

Spanish dominion in Cuba is a good deal like the cigarette habit—hard to give up and deadly to continue.—San Francisco Call.

The United States receives 92.53 per cent of Cuba's sugar crop and Spain receives only 5.41 per cent. To which country should that island belong?—Baltimore American.

First Call.

Colorado Springs, Nov 14—Another big day of the immense business being done at the Board of Trade these days was the total of over 760 000 shares that were sold this morning The brokers are dazed with orders and the public is still buying heavily, especially the cheaper stocks. The banner stock of the call was Proposition with a total amounting to over 140,000 shares. This stock has doubled in value in the past few days and is now selling at considerable better than $6 per 1000 Quite a batch of stocks had from 50 000 to 70,000 sales and included in the number were Mountain Queen, which was selling at from $3 to $4 per 1000, Ladessa which is very strong at 2¼ and 2¼, St Louis and Cripple Creek Tunnel which started to sell at 2½ but which was up to 6 before the close, and Defender which is still in good demand at $11 per 1000 There was another goodly sized batch that had between 30 000 and 50 000 sales and these included Bob Lee which was in big demand at 2, C. K and N which is now selling at 1½, Champagne which is bringing better than $9 per 1000 Princess Eulalia which is going at $8 50 per 1000 and Wheel of Fortune which was wanted at $8 25 per 1000 at the close of the call Some of the higher priced stocks show improvement, though they were not very actively traded in Isabella was selling at 32½ and Portland at $2 02 The silvers continue miserably weak.

Second Call

The brokers were as busy as ever at the second call and were successful in bringing the total sales to over one and one-quarter million shares for the day. The business was marked by a considerable flurry in Goldstone which sold to the extent of 131,000 shares, the same bringing 1¾ and 1⅞, the bulk of the sales being made at the lower figure which was, however, actively bid for it at the close of the call Several other stocks on the list and off of it had 50,000 sales and over and prominent among the number was that prime favorite C K. and N There was no diminution in the price of the stock as it all sold at 1⅞ Henrietta was a heavy seller at $9 and $9 70 per 1000, closing in good demand with the lower figure bid Sacremento came to the front with close to 25,000 sales at 5⅜ and 5¾ and Proposition was again lively with an even 30 000 shares to its credit at $7 and $7 75 per 1000 Isabella at from 32⅜ to 32½, and had a firm appearance and the same can be said for Mutual which had nearly 10 000 at better than 7 The total sales for the day amounted to 1,295 182 shares.

Red Henrietta each of which had from 100 000 to 370 000 sales and Agate, Santa Fe and Wheel of Fortune, which had from 50 000 to 100 000 sales It was the general opinion before the call that C K and N was going to slump, but the reverse proved to be true as it made a nice improvement in price Henrietta advanced to 1 and better and the same can be said of Agate Santa Fe and Addie C, which has recovered from the heavy selling of the day before The brokers are loaded down with orders and the buying fever among the brokers continues unabated, so that business may increase rather than diminish all this week Among the unlisted stocks Bob Lee, Gold Standard and Defender were the most active traders. The total sales for the day amounted to 1,270,200 shares

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Nov 14—St Louis led the Chicago wheat market in strength today It is evident that the trade has concluded that there is less of the poor grade of wheat in the southwest than was originally believed There is no question of the scarcity of good winter wheat but many people thought that the deficiency would be filled by a less desirable quality but that seems to have been a misapprehension. The St. Louis market was up on this consideration about one to 1¼ cent early in the day, Chicago tailing on with a lesser advance The opening trades were at slightly easier prices, the Cincinnati Price Current summary being rather discouraging to holders. A report which was later denied that English consols were declining, produced a change in the sentiment values firming slightly and then advancing with St Louis.

Corn—The Cincinnati Price Current reference to corn was inclined to help the market for that grain It reported the yield below expectations in many sections. As it was only an indefinite statement, the effect was not particularly pronounced The strength of wheat was of some virtue in firming corn The trade were heavier, very little, if any better than on recent days Receipts were 267 cars, 33 less than expected and 144 355 bushels were taken from store Export clearances were 279 415 bushels Liverpool was up ¼ pence on both spot and futures The late weakness of wheat destroyed the better tone of corn and prices yielded to the selling that took place

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York Nov 14—Money on call easy at 1@2 per cent Prime mercantile paper 5@6 per cent Bar silver 67¾ Mexican dollars 51 Sterling exchange is firm, with actual business in bankers bills at 4 85½@¾ for 60 days and 4 88¼@¼ for demand Posted rates 4 86½@90 commercial bills 4 85¾@4 87¾ Government bonds firm, State bonds dull railroad bonds irregular Silver at the board was quiet

After fractional declines at the opening the railway and miscellaneous stock market became strong and continued so until near the close of business, when professional traders sold rather freely on unconfirmed reports of shipments of $5 000 000 gold per Saturday's European steamers The best opinion is that some gold will go on the day named, but authorities do not agree that the amount will reach the amount given Some bankers estimate that $1,000,000 will go forward, while others place that amount at $2 000 000 L Von Hoffman & Co and William H Crossman & Brother, it is said, will undoubtedly ship

Sterling exchange is very strong and actual rates are higher than for some time past and there are no signs of relief in sight. Still there are excellent buying of stocks during the greater part of the day, more particularly of the granger issues which are being taken on the heavy movement of wheat in the west and northwest There is talk of bull pools in Burlington and Quincy and one prominent operator in the industrials is said to have transferred his interests to Rock Island

Speculations closed weak the active issues showing declines of 1@3 per cent for the day

Bonds were very irregular The sales aggregated $1,469,000

The above is a list of 10 stocks taken at random from our market letter of July, '93. Seven hundred per centum will have to be acknowledged as a very good rate of interest during these last two years of almost universal shrinkage in values.

We could cite a great many more examples of the increased values of gold stocks, and can recommend to you a number of Cripple Creek stocks that are to-day selling at such prices that they will undoubtedly show the same ratio of increase in a much shorter time
